Provision of English and Bahasa Malaysia Newspapers at home

From our recent survey, we found that many of our secondary students do not read newspapers in both languages. It is encouraged to provide these papers at home for at least two days in a week at a minimum for them to read to be informed of current issues.

Chinese New Year Celebration and Holiday

The Primary School will be celebrating Chinese New Year on Friday 23rd January, 2009. Students in both TIS and SST primary schools are invited to come dressed in Chinese traditional costumes or wear the festive colours of red and/or yellow.

Please note too that both the academic and administration staff will be on holiday for the whole week of Chinese New Year (Monday 26th January – Saturday 31st January). The office and school will only re-open on Monday 2nd February.
End of the School Day for Early Years and Key Stage 1 Students

The end of the school day for Early Years (Nursery & Key Stage 1) students is at 1.15pm and for Key Stage 1 students (Years 1 & 2) at 2.00pm. As classes continue up until this time, we need your assistance with limiting the distractions outside the classrooms prior to the pick-up time. Therefore, we would like parents to remain outside the boundary of the gates until the children are dismissed.

Year 8 Project for English

The Year 8 children are currently studying the novel, Flour Babies by Anne Fine. The story is about a group of young students who must perform a ‘flour baby’ experiment whereby they carry sacks of flour with them for a week and ‘care’ for them as babies to simulate the experience of parenting.

We thought it would be an experience for our Year 8 students to do the same – except that they will be looking after raw eggs instead of sacks of flour! Their parenting role will last for five days from Monday 19th January to Friday 23rd January. During that time, they need to ‘care’ for their ‘baby’ (raw egg) twenty-four hours a day. Students who have done this in the past have even made padded cribs and clothes for their ‘baby’. The students will be keeping a parenting journal and learning about stereotypes and taking responsibility. Their project will culminate with an essay as their final assessment.
